Kerhonkson Lions Report Progress On Civic Projects

Kerhonkson, Feb. 15—At the recent meeting of the Lions Club in Indian Valley Inn, reports were read relative to two community projects being promoted by the organization.

Arthur Chipp, chairman of the Eye Conservation Committee, revealed that his group was progressing on the $351 Eye Correction Fund program, and also stated that plans are materializing satisfactorily on the Veterans of Foreign Wars dance in which the club is interested.

Concerning the eye program, Chipp said that five school children had received preliminary examination by Dr. Martin of Kingston and are ready for their final check by the physician, after which they are to receive glasses donated by the Lions.

The V.F.W. dance, which the Lions are helping to promote, will be held on April 1 at the fire hall, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of residents from this area so that the fund for a new building will be increased.

Committees were named for the annual Lions Club show, the date of which is to be announced later. Lions who will direct the committees are Herbert Poppel, Gilbert Potts, Harold Rich, Roland Riegel, Donald Downs, A. J. Anderson, Vincent Mikaloni, A. Feldshuh, Solomon Shapiro, Howard Terwilliger, William Joyce, Irving Gilman and George Stockin.

During the social part of the meeting, the Lions were entertained by the Rev. Daniel Haines, pastor of St. Mark's Church, Kingston, former actor who played in "Show Boat," and "Green Pastures," as well as in several movies. His readings were very much enjoyed as were his Negro spirituals. His fine bass solos alone would have made the meeting a success was the consensus.

Report Says Protestants Persecuted in Bulgaria

(A report which purports to describe circumstances leading to the arrest of 15 Bulgarian pastors on treason charges has been delivered to the Associated Press.)

It was delivered yesterday by a traveler from Europe who said it was given him by associates abroad who simulated that its source could not be disclosed because of possible retaliation to "friends" in Bulgaria.

The traveler, a responsible official, said he has no knowledge of his own that the report is correct, but adds:

"I am certain that the source is reliable. I think it is as documentary as it can be, because anyone who tries to get full documentation across the border is asking for trouble."

Began in 1948

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—A report received here says that a program of "outright persecution" of Protestants in Bulgaria began in January, 1948, on the basis of secret Communist Party orders.

Since that time, the report says, between 30 and 40 pastors of the United Evangelical Church, which includes four denominations, have been imprisoned.

The report was delivered to the Associated Press yesterday by a responsible person just returned from Europe who specified that neither his name, his position nor source of the report could be disclosed.

He said the report was prompted by the recent arrest of 15 Bulgarian Protestant leaders for alleged treason, spying and violations of foreign currency laws.

The campaign began, the report says, when Communist central headquarters in Sofia sent a directive to Communist leaders in which the Evangelical pastors were accused of "undermining the foundations of the People's power." The directive is quoted as saying:

"If we analyze carefully the sermons of these pastors, we shall see that in spite of their outward innocence and virtue, behind their words, wrapped in mysticism and religious secrecy, are hidden anti-national reactionary tendencies."

The directive is said to have called for questioning of pastors by Communist leaders, and to have resulted in a series of arrests, beatings and confinements, which are described in detail in the report.

Then in June, 1948, the report says, the government addressed a letter to church leaders, telling them they should, among other things:

"Not criticize the government; support nationalism; acknowledge and preach that the state stands above the church; support, fully and unreservedly, all government measures; counteract anti-Communist and anti-Russian propaganda from the pulpit and the church press."

Later, the minister of foreign affairs is said to have threatened to close the churches unless they did "something to aid the government." As a result, the report says, the churches made "certain concessions" and the foreign affairs minister "assumed editorial control."

Nevertheless, the arrests continued, the report says, adding: "By November, between 30 and 40 in all were in prison. Some were held as hostages for others who could not be found."

Nation Is First To Survey Soils

Denver, Feb. 16 (AP)—The president of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts calls for a soil conserving program enabling the United States to meet world responsibilities.

The United States is the first nation in history to make a country-wide effort to preserve natural resources, said Kent Leavitt of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., yesterday.

To do this, he said, the country must:

1. Change its thinking about the ownership of land from that of a possessor in fee simple to that of a trustee.
2. Develop a science of proper land use.
3. Apply this new science to every acre of land in the nation.

Rejecting mandatory methods of expanding the program as socialistic, Leavitt said the program must be put into action by a nationwide cooperative effort.

More than 300 soil conservation supervisors from all parts of the nation were registered for the three-day convention.

Princess Delays Aly-Rita Wedding

Paris, Feb. 16 (AP)—Prince Aly Khan's marriage to American movie star Rita Hayworth will be indefinitely delayed, it appeared today.

Court clerks here said that the "reconciliation" meeting between Aly Khan and the present princess in their divorce action has been postponed because of the princess' illness.

The prince has asked for a divorce in order to be free to marry Miss Hayworth. Under French law, the judge handling the case must first hold a meeting with the two parties to try to effect a reconciliation.

Court clerks said they had been notified by attorneys for the princess that she is ill in London, and that her doctors had advised against making any trip for the time being. The hearing had been set for tomorrow.

The court will not set a new date until the princess has notified it that she has recovered, clerks said.

Two Men Are Held For Alleged Theft

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—Two men were booked on charges of burglary early today in the alleged theft of 1,500 chickens from the Supreme Poultry Corporation, 2012 Bronx street, the Bronx, during the last six months.

The men charged are Arthur Rosenbaum, 49, of 1522 Vyse avenue, the Bronx, an employee of the company, and Samuel Rosenfeld, 45, of 735 East Tremont avenue, the Bronx. The arrests were made on a complaint by Aaron Katzman, a partner in the poultry firm.

Katzman told police he had noticed a shortage in the company's chicken inventory over the last six months, and estimated that 1,500 birds had been taken. Katzman hired a private detective to watch the market, and last night the detective reported seeing two men fleeing from the place in an auto.

Both men denied any connection with the thefts.

Morgan Is Freed

Bedford, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP)—A criminal court jury freed Clark Morgan, 34, of manslaughter charges yesterday in the "William Tell" slaying of a tavernkeeper friend. Morgan freely admitted he tried to shoot a whiskey glass off the head of his friend, Thomas B. Leary, with a .22 caliber pistol on February 5. "I still can't see how I missed," said Morgan, a resident of Cumberland, Md., adding that he tried the stunt only at Leary's repeated insistence. The jury ordered Morgan to pay costs of prosecution.

CLERGY FACE MORE RED PURGES
An outraged Christian world scarcely had time to catch its breath after the sentencing of Hungary's Cardinal Mindszenty before the familiar pattern began again in Bulgaria. This time 15 Protestant clergymen, rather than a Roman Catholic primate, were the victims. But the charges were much the same.
Once again there were accusations of treason, currency manipulation and spying for the United States and Britain. Once again came the official announcement that the accused had "fully confessed" their alleged crimes.
The closeness and similarity of these two events might be due to carelessness, but it seems more likely that they result from indifference. It is as if the Kremlin's agents in Budapest and Sofia were saying, "You denounce these charges as trumped up. You say they are part of a Communist campaign to wipe out religion wherever it can. You say the charges are a baseless insult to the American and British governments and their citizens. All right, what are you going to do about it?"
And what, indeed, can be done? These half-secret mock trials and the ensuing punishments are violations of the terms which gave Hungary and Bulgaria a limited sovereignty under their peace treaties. The terms include freedom of religious worship, speech and political opinion, and freedom from discrimination because of sex, race, religion or language.
Under normal conditions, complaints of this sort would be settled by the treaty signatories, Russia, Britain and this country. But under present conditions it is almost certain that the Communist heads of government in Hungary and Bulgaria would say that the accused were tried under laws applying to all citizens and that, moreover, they had confessed their crimes.
Even if the signatory powers did go through the motions of meetings and discussions, there is no chance of their agreeing. Moscow obviously ordered these travesties of justice. And Moscow just as obviously isn't going to admit that it was wrong or permit its decisions to be reversed.
So the prospects are for more persecutions and purges of religion and its leaders in the Soviet satellite states. One may wonder, in that connection, why Russia permits its own war-revived religions to continue operating with no more apparent hindrance than the usual denunciations in the Communist press.
The answer can only be guessed at. But it seems likely that the Russian churches have been allowed to continue only on condition of prescribed behavior. In the satellite countries both Protestant and Roman Catholic churchmen are threats to the Communist dictatorship, just as they were to the Nazi dictatorship when it existed in the same countries.
Cardinal Mindszenty and the Bulgarian clergymen are to the Communists what Cardinal Hlond and Pastor Niemoller were to the Nazis before them. They are champions of the rights and freedom and dignity of man. They are foes of atheism. They are believers in truth, justice and charity. As such they are enemies of the Communist state. Their light must be extinguished.
The most disappointed communities in the United States last year were those which did not get to see the Freedom Train, or found its stay in their town too short for the number of citizens who wanted to see the train. Now the House Post Office Committee has voted a $3,000,000 appropriation to keep the train running for three more years. This measure must be approved by the House itself, then by the Senate and the President; but at least it is on the way.

WHO MAKES OUR POLICY?

A reading of the interim report of the House Committee on Un-American Activities raises the question as to who formulates American policies, both domestic and foreign. For instance, the way was paved for the downfall of China more by an extraordinary incorrect and even wicked monetary policy imposed on that country by the United States through its so-called experts. But who were the experts?

In this report, the following persons appear as monetary experts. According to the testimony of Elizabeth Bentley and the investigations of the committee, the Communists and their associates were divided into cells. The "Silvermaster group" was headed by Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, director of the Labor Division, Farm Security Administration; detailed at one time to the Board of Economic Warfare run by Henry Wallace.
In this group, I find the following names of persons who could have been or might have been influential in wrecking China by means of wrecking her currency.
Solomon Adler, Treasury Department; agent in China.
Frank Coe, assistant director, Division of Monetary Research, Treasury.
Laughlin Currie, administrative assistant to the President. (Currie was actually imposed on Chiang Kai-shek as an adviser by President Roosevelt.)
Mrs. Bela (Sonia) Gold, research assistant, Bureau of Monetary Research, Treasury.
William Taylor, Treasury Department.
William Ludwig Ullmann, Division of Monetary Research, Treasury.
According to the same House Committee on Un-American Activities, the following were in the "Perlo group".
Victor Perlo, Monetary Research, Treasury.
Harold Glasser, Treasury Department.
The late Henry Dexter White, then assistant secretary of the treasury, is stated to have cooperated with the "Silvermaster group."
It is true and must be noted that of those mentioned above, Laughlin Currie, Harry D. White, Bela Gold (Sonia Gold) and Frank Coe appeared before the committee at their own request and categorically denied the accusations made against them by Elizabeth Bentley and Whitaker Chambers. Further, the committee reports that no charges of Communist party affiliation were made against either Laughlin Currie or Harry Dexter White.
In this article, I am not discussing party affiliations. I merely make the point that many of those who dealt with the monetary problems of this country and who were in a position to bring influence to bear upon the American attitude toward the monetary problems of China were on these lists.

Some day, perhaps even during the Alger Hiss trial, the administration may disclose the data gathered by the F.B.I. and thus far unavailable to Congress. It is impossible to accept these lists as absolutely correct unless there is further corroboration; the Department of Justice has the means to determine the facts. If any of these men and women are unjustly classified, it would be to their benefit if the true facts were made available officially. If the Bentley-Chambers lists prove to be true, then every official act of these individuals needs to be brought in view of their affiliations and basic philosophies.
This we know: China, a silver country, was wrecked by the American silver policy. Her money grew increasingly valueless after the United States undertook to advise China on currency reforms. The coincidence of wrecking a nation by ruining her currency with such lists as Elizabeth Bentley and Whitaker Chambers provided is too sharp to be ignored.

ADDING VITAMINS TO MILK

While the discovery of vitamins was one of the most important advances in our knowledge of foods and nutrition, our research workers in this branch of health are pointing out that while "enough" vitamins should be available in our daily diet, vitamins are being added sometimes where they are not needed.
As milk is one of our foods most needed by everybody, the Food and Nutrition Board, National Research Council, found it necessary some months ago to make a statement regarding fortifying or strengthening milk by vitamins. According to the board, it does not favor fortification of the general milk supply with minerals and vitamins other than vitamin D.
The Board favors fortification of milk with vitamin D to the level of 400 U.S.P. units to the quart when the milk is used entirely to supply vitamin D. The Board favors the idea of supplying all the necessary vitamins needed by the people by the use of ordinary food as far as practicable. For this reason, it encourages education in proper choice of foods, improvement of food production, manufacture and preparation, so as to increase and retain more fully the essential or absolutely necessary nutrients naturally present. The Board also encourages improvement in distribution so that diets adequate, or sufficient for health may be available to all persons.
Another point stressed by the board is that where extra vitamins, minerals or other substances are added to milk, that milk must necessarily cost more. The Board states that the use of more milk is highly desirable from the standpoint of public health and it is particularly concerned with making available the best quality of milk at low cost.

Questions-Answers

Q—Does there really exist a place called Zion in Palestine?
A—In Jewish antiquity Zion was the name of a hill in Jerusalem, site of the royal palace of David and the center of Hebrew government and worship. The name now denotes both the actual and the heavenly cities of Jerusalem.
Q—When did Panama achieve her independence?
A—For 82 years, Panama attempted unsuccessfully to break away from Colombia. After U.S. proposals for canal rights over the narrow isthmus had been rejected by the Colombian Senate, Panama proclaimed its independence with United States backing in 1903.
Q—Who wrote the Acts of the Apostles?
A—St. Luke, Paul's companion, is generally accepted as the author. Little is known of Luke from the New Testament, except that he was a physician; tradition makes him also a painter.
Q—How far will man be able to see with the Mt. Palomar telescope?
A—It will project man's sight into the universe two times farther than it has ever gone before—to a distance more than a thousand million light-years away. The Palomar telescope will open up an unexplored sphere eight times the volume of that hitherto scrutinized.
Q—Do fleas have wings?

So They Say...

People tend to be needlessly dazzled by writers, and wonder why they write. It's not so deep a mystery, after all. Some write to get rich, which is a mistake. Plunkers earn more. Others write for fame, which is also a mistake. Fame is a will-o'-the-wisp, here today, gone tomorrow.
Then of course there are those who write because they can't help themselves. They're the best.

Chipp Is Selected Ulster Coordinator By Advisory Board

Arthur C. Chipp, Kerhonkson, was named county coordinator by the Ulster County Advisory Board in charge of Fire Mobilization and Control at a meeting held Monday evening at which time by-laws for the organization were also adopted.

The Ulster County Bureau of Fire Mobilization and Control was authorized by the Board of Supervisors for the purpose of establishing county fire training schools pursuant to Sub. 62 of Section 12 of the County Law, where a permanent training program for all firemen of the county may be carried out. Organization in Ulster county was effected on September 16, last, and since then members of the advisory board, instructors and district coordinators have been named and a schedule of times and places for holding these schools established.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of Kingston has been named chairman, James A. Simpson has been named secretary, Harold A. Sanford of 40 Shufeldt street Kingston and James M. Brett of 132 Wilbur avenue have been named instructors.

In addition to Chipp as county coordinator, each of the four districts into which the county is divided will be under the direction of a district coordinator. Those who have been named as battalion district coordinators are: Edward Mains, Port Ewen, District No. 1, which comprises the city of Kingston and the townships of Ulster, Esopus, Hurley, Marlborough and Rosendale, William Maynard, Highland, District No. 2, which comprises the townships of Marlborough, Lloyd, Plattekill, Gardiner, Shawangunk and New Paltz, Robert Michel of Ellenville, District No. 3, comprising the towns of Wawarsing and Rochester, Reginald Lapo, Woodstock, District No. 4, comprising the towns of Shandaken, Olive, Woodstock and Saugerties.

Schools in the various districts have already been established and sessions held in Districts 1, 3 and 4. Two classes a week are now being held in these districts and these basic courses will be completed by April 1, when there will be started a series of second classes for basic study. Intermediate and advanced classes will be conducted during the summer and fall.

Fire school dates as established, exclusive of the dates already past are:

District No. 1, Edward Mains, coordinator; Harold Sanford, instructor, February 16, 23, 24, March 8, 9, 21 and 22.
District No. 2, William Maynard, coordinator; James M. Brett, instructor, February 17, 18, 21 and 22, March 1, 2, 7 and 8.
District No. 3, Robert Michel, coordinator; Harold A. Sanford, instructor, February 25, March 11, 18 and 24.
District No. 4, Reginald Lapo, coordinator; James M. Brett, instructor, February 23, March 3, 16 and 30.

Members of the Advisory Board Fire Training Committee are: Fred J. Baker, 33 Montrose avenue, Kingston; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, city hall, Kingston; Chief Joseph L. Murphy, 63 Hoffman street, Kingston; Frederick H. Stang, 259 Fair street, Kingston; Edward Mains, Port Ewen; William Maynard, Highland; Cluett Schantz, Marlborough; Charles Turner, 75 Fair street, Kingston; Harold Titus, Walkill; Robert Michel, Ellenville; Howard Anderson, Accord; Mervin Doremus, Woodstock; James A. Simpson, Phoenixia; Robert A. Snyder, Saugerties; Edward Hubert Rosendale; Harold A. Sanford and James M. Brett, Kingston, instructors.

Will Schedule Courses

After April 1, additional courses in basic training will be scheduled and later intermediate and advanced courses will be set up. There will be, in addition to the classes now scheduled up to April 1, 16 courses comprising 80 classes held during the late spring summer and fall.

This training program for firemen as set up by the state is designed to sponsor training and mutual aid plans, to cooperate with local governments and fire officials in coordinating all city and county training and mutual aid facilities, to provide added fire protection to all communities by a systematic plan of mobilization and control of the fire department personnel and equipment. The existing Mutual Aid system as now advanced by the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be continued and later it is hoped there will be mutual aid between counties as there now exists in this locality between communities. Later on this mutual aid between counties will develop into a statewide movement for the benefit of all.

Among the duties of County Coordinator Chipp will be that of acting as liaison officer between the County Fire Advisory Board and the New York State Bureau of Fire Mobilization and Control, to keep records of the county activities associated with the plan for submission to the County Fire Advisory Board, to act with the district coordinators and the county training instructors in regulation of drills, etc., to arrange surveys of apparatus and equipment and personnel and to aid in any way in maintaining the mutual aid protection in all areas during emergencies.

The Ulster County training program as set up is a part of the fire training program for the entire state of New York as established under the Division of Safety of the state of New York. A State Advisory Board, appointed by Governor Dewey, will assist the director of the Division of Safety and the chief of the Bureau of Fire Mobilization and Control in the formulation of policies and programs.

The committee on by-laws, which reported at the meeting Monday evening was Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy and James A. Simpson. By-laws adopted by the Advisory Board of Fire Mobilization and Control of Ulster county are:

The letter, congratulated the unsuccessful G.O.P. vice presidential candidate on his "magnificent victory." The writer said he had just returned from attending the funeral in Washington. "I'll have to send that one to Tom Dewey," Warren chuckled.

Hatfield Proposes Authority Bill on Land for Roads

Legislation designed to allow the New York State Bridge Authority to pay for land acquisition costs for city arterial highways leading to bridges under jurisdiction of the authority was slated to be introduced Tuesday in the State Senate by Senator Ernest I. Hatfield. The Poughkeepsie New Yorker revealed.

According to the Poughkeepsie newspaper, Senator Hatfield's proposed legislation would apply not only to Poughkeepsie but to Kingston as well, if and when a bridge is built here. It was reported that the Hatfield bill would ultimately extend more benefit to Kingston, provided a bridge is constructed here. The bill would leave the Bridge Authority with the power to determine where toll money would be spent for land acquisition and the amount to be so used.

The Hatfield amendment, Subdivision 10b of Section 528 of the Public Authorities law, would authorize the authority to:

"Contribute and pay over such amounts as the authority shall determine to any city's share of the cost, including damages and expenses, to be borne by or charged against such city, for the acquisition of real property acquired by the state within such city for state highways connecting with any of the bridges and approaches" (under jurisdiction of the authority.)

In making known his sponsorship of use of bridge tolls for arterial highways, Senator Hatfield mentioned only Poughkeepsie. The New Yorker said. The senator declared that he would sponsor a bill substituting that more than $1,000,000 in bridge tolls be diverted for necessary land acquisition for the proposed north-south artery. At that time, it was revealed, the senator made no mention of making the measure applicable to arteries in Kingston, if and when a bridge is constructed here.

Meanwhile, a assemblyman Pomeroy of Ulster county announced that he planned to introduce the Hatfield bill in the Assembly at once. However, he pointed out that the Hatfield bill contained no clause which would enable the Bridge Authority to use tools for dredging the Hudson river at Kingston. It was reported that the Authority, a few weeks ago, was considering such a program.

Stocking Mystery Solved

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 16 (AP)—The case of the unadorned calf, or where went milady's stockings?—appeared solved today. A technician for a big nylon producer here says this business of wholesale nylon running is "old." You can blame the stuff that dirties your curtains—soot. The current mystery began its beginning Monday in Jacksonville, Fla. Women walking down the street suddenly noticed their nylon hose were becoming plagued with runs and gaping holes.

Late Bulletin

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 16 (AP)—Taxpayer and business organizations militantly demanded today cuts in Governor Dewey's $936,200,000 budget before the state's tax load is "further increased and made unbearable."

They protested, at a public budget hearing in the Assembly chambers, Dewey's proposals for boosts in taxes this year by $165,200,000.

Their economy demands, were matched by those of teacher, parent, educational and labor organizations which urged the state to open its purse strings for even greater spending than contemplated in the record-high 1949-50 budget.

One of the largest delegations advocating more spending was made up of more than 500 members of parent and teacher organizations from New York city. They came by special train to support their spokesmen's pleas for additional school aid.

More than 140 persons were scheduled to speak during the hearing before the Senate Finance and Assembly Ways and Means Committees and the Taxation Committees of both Houses.

Will Transfer Mitchum

Los Angeles, Feb. 16 (AP)—"Model prisoner" Robert Mitchum will be transferred today from the county jail to the sheriff's honor farm at Castaic to serve out the 53 days left of his 60-day term for a marijuana violation. However, the husky actor, who earlier said he wanted to go to the honor farm so he could be outdoors, isn't pepped up about it. "I've been pretty happy in the tank here," he said yesterday upon completing his physical exam. "I'm really proud that the men in the tank recommed me to be a tank trusty," he explained. "That's considered quite an honor, you know."

1932," he added, baring "some unforeseen drastic deterioration of the international situation."

However, the treasury chief said, some financial problems still exist in Europe. "The United States, investing its taxpayers' money in European recovery, should reasonably expect that the recipient countries will at least make greater efforts to put their financial houses in order," he added.

One suggestion he made was that the U. S. "explore with these countries" in "the utmost secrecy" the question of whether they should devalue their money to balance their international accounts and thus relieve their dependence on U. S. aid. Food and agricultural items make up over half the present aid for Europe. In the year starting July 1, more emphasis will be placed on industrial goods, but food and farm products still will make up a big share of the total. And in that category, wheat is the biggest single item. Cotton is second.

Had Birthday Cake But Couldn't Eat Any

Marlborough, Feb. 16—Robert Earl Linsig had a large cake for his 14th birthday party, but it was for his guests. He didn't even taste it.

Fourteen years ago he was born without an esophagus, and has never "eaten." However, he's growing as every normal boy should.

"Why do you know," he's now even taller than I am," said his mother, Mrs. Raymond Linsig, before humorously admitting to her five-foot stature.

Bobby is in the eighth grade at the Marlborough Central School, where he has been a student for the past two years.

"And he hasn't missed a day of school all fall and winter, and hasn't even had a common ordinary cold," his mother remarked.

Medina Says Aides Fail to Prove Their Charges to Jury

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—Judge Harold R. Medina told counsel for eleven top Communist leaders again yesterday that they still were failing to prove their charge that the federal jury-picking system here is discriminatory.

The key jury files were brought into court and examined by lawyers for the Communists, charged with conspiracy to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

As the 20th day of pre-trial argument on the jury system drew toward a close, the judge said he had not noticed anything yesterday that "has any significance."

Defense lawyers cross-examined Jury Clerk Joseph F. McKenzie, who had been called by the government to defend the jury system. The lawyers for the Communists kept up their efforts to show that the system of picking jurors discriminated against poor people, manual laborers, women, Jews, Negroes and members of other minorities, and in favor of the rich.

At one point, McKenzie produced a ledger showing a month-by-month total of trial jurors and grand jurors on the federal rolls. The last listing—for December, 1948—showed there were 8,888 men and 1,874 women who had qualified to serve as trial jurors and 1,852 men and 273 women qualified as grand jurors.

Judge Medina then said: "These figures demonstrate that, far from discriminating against women, they are selected in large numbers and there is nothing here to show any discrimination against Negroes and Jews."

The defense continued its contention that the defendants could not get a fair trial, and that the indictment should be killed and the panel of prospective jurors scrapped.

In cross-examining McKenzie, the defense established that some outside organizations—especially the Federal Grand Jury Association, made up of former grand jurors—have submitted lists of "nominations" for jury service. Included in these were five lists marked "colored." The defense did not bring out what it considered to be the significance of this marking.

Asked by the judge whether the jury office keeps a separate list of Negro jurors, McKenzie said "No."

Judge Medina asked Richard Gladstein, one of the defense lawyers, if he claimed there was anything "wrong" about the Grand Jury Association and other groups submitting names to the jury clerk.

Gladstein replied: "I think it's completely wrong for the Federal Grand Jury Association to have virtually captured the jury system."

The judge asked McKenzie if his ledgers "show so many Negroes, so many Puerto Ricans, so many Jews, and so forth."

"They do not," McKenzie replied.

During the luncheon recess, a delegation of nine women, discussed with the judge the charge that the jury system discriminates against women. The delegation was headed by Dr. Gene Weltfish, Columbia University anthropologist and president of the Congress of American Women, which is on Attorney Tom Clark's list of subversive groups.

PLATTEKILL

Mrs. Milton VanDuser is on the entertainment committee for the silver team to be held Friday, Feb. 18, from 3 to 5 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Fred Bernard in Modena. The tea is sponsored by the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill and the community at large is invited to attend.

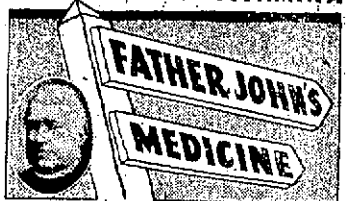

According to a recent report at the 4-H Club, meeting the organization has had a busy schedule over the past several months. Highlighting the activities of the club was a trip to New York city, which was a pleasant experience.

The club has purchased a sewing machine which may be used by civic groups. Hallmark Christmas and an Achievement Night was held in conjunction with the Home Bureau. The organization has $80 towards the camp fund, and additional money will be raised by selling place mats, holding game parties, collecting scrap paper and such. The 4-H has a landscaping project for the school grounds as a service to the community. Plans are under the direction of Elias Beach.

Loftus Is Found Guilty, Is Given Scolding, Leniency

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—Fire Chief Peter Loftus today was found guilty of departmental charges and reprimanded for his attendance at a pre-Christmas party in a lower Manhattan firehouse.

The charges included attending a party where beer and whiskey were served, failing to sign the firehouse visitors' book and later making false statements about the party.

William R. Bayes, third deputy fire commissioner, also recommended revoking of pay, withheld from the fire chief during six days he was suspended after the charges were filed.

Chief Loftus testified at his trial he saw no violation of departmental rules at the party and that he was off duty when he attended the event.

Bayes' opinion said that "the harshness of dismissal from the department is held not to be warranted in view of his (Loftus) otherwise unblemished record and his capacity for the further rendition of valuable services in the important position he now occupies."

Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle, in carrying out the recommended reprimand, sent this message to Loftus:

"Your 29 years of service directs me to the realm of leniency. In the future, you shall conduct yourself in such a manner as to eliminate under any and all circumstances the possibility of bringing the fire department into disrepute."

"I admonish you to refer to this communication frequently for your future guidance and welfare."

Moffett Awarded $1,150,000 in Suit Against Oil Firm

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—James A. Moffett, who claimed his influence with top U. S. government officials to protect foreign oil concessions of the Arabian American Oil Company, has been awarded $1,150,000 in his suit against the company.

Moffett, retired oil company executive and former federal housing administrator, sued the company for $6,000,000 as compensation for services he said he rendered during the war in safeguarding the company's concessions in Saudi Arabia.

A federal jury of five women and seven men made the award to Moffett yesterday after a 15-day trial in which he contended he talked to President Roosevelt and other officials on behalf of the oil company.

The award will carry interest from 1941, which, it was said, will amount to about an additional $500,000.

"I feel just fine," was the 62-year-old Moffett's comment on the verdict.

Judge Edward A. Conger reserved decision on a motion by defense attorney Joseph H. Proskauer to set aside the verdict. Proskauer held the verdict was "against public policy."

"No man," Proskauer told reporters later, "can make a contract to sell his influence with public authorities for the oil firm, which is owned by the Standard Oil Company of California and the Texas Company, and an appeal will be filed if the defense motion is denied."

In the trial, Moffett said he was retained in 1941 to protect the company's Saudi Arabian interests after "Kut," the Saudi threatened to cancel the company's concessions unless it paid him $30,000,000 over a five-year period.

Subsequently, Moffett said, he talked with President Roosevelt, the then Secretary of State Cordell Hull, the then Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, and Jesse Jones, former chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

As a result of these talks, Moffett said, the United States got Great Britain to meet Ibn Saud's financial demands out of an American loan of $425,000,000. Moffett claimed that by his services, he had saved the company $30,000,000 and its concessions.

The defense contended the company never requested Moffett to protect its concessions and said that, at most, he served only as a "messenger or errand boy."

Moffett, formerly a $75,000-a-year executive, retired in 1943 as chairman of the board of the Bahrain Petroleum Company and the Cal-Tex Oil Company, both owned by the Standard Oil Company and the Texas Company.

In 1933, Moffett said, he was fired from his $125,000-a-year position as operating vice president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey when he accepted President Roosevelt's bid to become a member of the Oil Advisory Committee of the National Recovery Administration.

Legible Records Desired. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 16 (AP)—The State Health Department today ordered registrars of vital statistics and town and city clerks to insist that records of births, deaths and marriages be kept legible. In a letter, the department urged the officials to make sure records of such events be typewritten, hand-printed or written legibly. Registrars were reminded they have the authority to refuse to accept reports which were not prepared properly.

'Landmark'

If erected, this building "would be a landmark," says San Francisco architect A. McF. McSweeney, the designer. It certainly would be—it's a 440-story, mile-high skyscraper. It would have 100,000 apartments, housing 400,000 persons, 1000 stores, 50 schools, 50 movie theaters, 50 night clubs, 20 churches, 10 hospitals, 10,000 offices, etc., etc. It's all in the very tentative stage.

The following births were recorded recently at the office of the city registrar:

Brooklyn Doctors Oppose AMA Plan

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—Brooklyn doctors have voted to oppose the American Medical Association's plan for financing a fight against compulsory national health insurance.

The Kings County (Brooklyn) Medical Association last night also turned down a resolution to accept the A.M.A.'s counter-proposal to President Truman's health insurance plan. The resolution was referred to a committee for future consideration.

The 12-point A.M.A. plan, main feature of which provides for setting up a "department of health" headed by a doctor with cabinet rank, was announced in Chicago last Sunday.

The Brooklyn group has 3,600 members.

At last night's meeting, those attending voted 861 to 755 in favor of a resolution protesting the A.M.A. $25-per-member assessment to pay for a campaign against compulsory national health insurance.

The Medical Society of the County of New York (Manhattan) approved the assessment in January, but will reconsider the subject Feb. 28.

Soloist at Dutch Church Sunday Will Sing Several Groups

Miss Adele Addison, soprano, who will be guest soloist Sunday at 5 p. m. for the program of Negro spirituals at the First Dutch Reformed Church, has recently sung leading roles with the New England Opera Theatre. Last month she was cast as Mimmi in "Carmen" and last November she sang Zaida in Rossini's "The Turk in Italy."

Miss Addison was originally chosen for the part of Zaida in the Rossini opera at the Berkshire Music Festival last summer. Serge Koussevitzky selected Miss Addison from the opera students at the music center to portray the part of Zaida in the center's presentation of "The Turk in Italy."

In addition Miss Addison appeared last year with the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Charles Munch, noted conductor. She also sang as guest soloist with the Springfield and Greenfield Symphony orchestras.

A graduate of Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N. J., she was chosen as one of ten music students to receive a John Hancock Life Insurance Co. scholarship to study at Tanglewood last summer.

Her solos Sunday afternoon in the annual program of Negro spirituals will be "Lord What Shall I Do by Julia Perry; I Stood on the River Jordan, arranged by Burleigh; Heaven, Heaven, arranged by Burleigh; Talk About a Child that Do Love Jesus, Dawson; On My Journey, Boatner; Who Is Dat Yondah, arranged by Burleigh; and Let Us Break Bread Together, Lawrence.

A nursery for small children will be held in the church house during the service so parents may attend this service.

Valentine Dance Marks Anniversary at Y.M. Youth Center

Top photo: The Valentine Dance at the Y.M.C.A. Youth Center Tuesday night marked the fifth anniversary for the center and the 500th party. Youth Center Dances Pass 500 Mark at Y.M., Special Valentine Party Program Was Held

With five years and 500 dances of experience behind them, the members of the Youth Center Committee of the Y.M.C.A. paused Tuesday night for a special celebration in the form of a Valentine party. The Valentine dance was no exception with 254 in attendance. Saturday night square dances draw an even greater number of young people.

During those five years, more than 135,000 young people have attended the dances. Last year 125 parties were held with a total attendance of 24,730. Top record for a dance was 478 Saturday night, January 8, this year.

At the present time two dances are scheduled each week, one for modern dancing to music of the latest records on Tuesday nights; and one featuring square sets with Bill Brown's orchestra playing Saturday nights. The committee decides whether or not refreshments will be served.

Admission is 20c per person on nights when records are played and 25c per person when an orchestra is employed. The admission supports the dances although janitor service, lights, heat, supervision and general upkeep are necessarily supplied by the Y.M.C.A.

"They're perfect," said Daniel Raymond, 13 East St. James street, a sophomore at high school, when questioned as to his opinion of the Youth Center dances. His partner, Elaine North of 11 Belvedere street, a freshman, agreed and added that she liked the modern dancing better than the square sets.

Good times at the center stick in memories so when P.F.C. Harry Webster of Linderman avenue extension came home on furlough from the Marine Corps Station at Cherry Point, he marked the dances in his date schedule.

"My friends told me there would be a dance at the Y.M. tonight so I made sure I'd be here. They're all right," he continued, "I've been in service about 3½ months but while in high school I always attended these affairs."

Partner Mary Jean Keller, 189 West Chestnut street, a sophomore, was also a frequent member of the young set in attendance. "We have very nice decorations tonight," she said in approval of the work done by the committee.

The center's walls were decorated with large valentine red hearts and white bows; lights were in soft reds and blues; and the red and white streamers attached to the center fixture formed a huge dome above the dancers.

The inevitable stag line brought forth more approval of the dances even if it is a bit difficult to choose a partner. Kenneth McGowan, 526 Broadway, and Rudolph Turk, 28 North street, were among the young lads who return to the Y.M. for the dances even though they are no longer in school.

Problems

Turk served on the center committee last year and realizes the problems facing a group of young people who try to plan the dances.

"You've got to keep thinking of something different for these dances," he explained. "Maybe a masquerade or an amateur night when everybody could be interested, would be some ideas," he suggested.

Turk also mentioned that the young people were responsible for a sizeable amount in collections for last year's Y.M.C.A. finance campaign.

Three juniors, Jay Rider, 46 Sherman street; Ronald Kaplan, 172 Wall street, all spoke enthusiastically for the dances.

Supervision

Adults who supervise the dances are Clarence W. Correll, boy's work secretary and youth director at the Y.M.C.A.; and William Burnett of Downs street, proprietor of DeWitt Laid, who volunteers his services for the young people.

"Parents come occasionally and are always welcome," Mr. Correll emphasized. "We do want the parents to see the dances," he said.

Also assisting Mr. Correll are Edward Brick, 90 Murray street, who handles the door checks; Ira Hadley, 56 Smith avenue; and Leroy Herdman of Connelly who handle the coat room checking.

Piano Needed

One thing needed at the center is a good piano. The Y. would be most grateful for the donation of a good piano for the center.

During the last three years after the young people showed a genuine interest in the center, a record player and public address system was installed to replace the old juke box. A library of 350 records is maintained.

About 15 new records are added to the collection each month. A committee of the young people have the privilege of listening to and purchasing the new records.

Also within the last three years 250 steel folding chairs have been added to the equipment of the center.

An orchestra is engaged for the square dances each Saturday night and when special parties are planned an orchestra is hired for Tuesday night.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

LEFT-HANDEDNESS

The following is one of three identical letters received in the same mail from the U. S. Naval Academy: "I am seeking your decision on a matter of etiquette which has arisen at our dining table involving me and several of my classmates. Is it proper for a left handed person to eat with his left hand when the seating arrangement is so provided that he interfaces with the person next to him? Some of the men claim that this means the left-handed person should conform to the table etiquette of the majority and eat with his right hand."

If the left-handed person can learn to use his right hand comfortably as well as dextrously, yes. Usually this is not possible and it therefore is generally understood by everyone that it is proper for him to use his left hand. His place at table should not be set differently. He in other words is accustomed to reaching across his plate for implements on the right. (As a rule, he finds no difficulty in lifting a glass or cup to his lips in his right hand.)

Divorcee in Wedding Party.
Dear Mrs. Post: I'm young and have been separated from my husband for the past six months. There undoubtedly will be a divorce sometime. My best friend has asked me to serve as her wedding attendant and now comes the question of whether under my personal circumstances this would be in good taste?

Answer: Your personal unhappiness has nothing to do with taking part in a friend's wedding.

Smoker's Manners
Dear Mrs. Post: Are there any rules about who lights whose cigarette when several people start smoking at the same time? Let's say a man offers his cigarette case to several others with whom he is sitting before taking one himself. Is he then supposed to get up and go the rounds lighting these cigarettes before lighting his own?

Answer: He would naturally offer a light to the woman (or woman) nearest him. Beyond those, in most cases, another man lights additional cigarettes of those farther away or the woman perhaps light their own before he can reach them.

Are you planning to give a cocktail party? Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-26, suggests the invitation form, the time and what to serve. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

"Eastern Supper" is a traditional New England dish that puts a lot of tasty nourishment on the table for very little money.

Eastern Supper (Serves 6)

One pound frankfurters, two 1-pound cans baked beans, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1/2 cup chopped celery.

Brown onion in hot fat. Add beans, brown sugar, mustard and celery. Mix well and place half in a casserole. Cover with half the frankfurters (sliced). Add rest of beans and arrange sliced frankfurters on top of the casserole. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 30 minutes.

From the south comes another traditional dish, easy on the palate and purse.

Cook sweet potatoes in sks until barely tender. Peel and cut into crosswise slices. Place half on the bottom of a greased 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle with salt. Shape sausage into 6 cakes and pan fry until browned. Cut apples in wedge-shaped pieces and place over sausage. Sprinkle with nutmeg; cover with remaining potato slices. Sprinkle with water and brown sugar. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for one hour.

Appreciation Note Shows X-Ray Value

The value of early discovery of tuberculosis through a chest X-ray was demonstrated effectively by a letter read at the meeting of the board of directors of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The letter, addressed to Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary of the tuberculosis group, was received from a young Ulster county woman now under treatment at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital here. Symptoms of tuberculosis were discovered through the Kingston Chest X-ray Survey conducted last fall, and treatment was started while the case was still an early case. The name of the patient was withheld.

The letter reads as follows:

Dear Miss Murphy:
The next to the last day of the mobile unit, you politely but firmly turned aside several feeble excuses on my part, until I did have an X-ray. I realize that in doing so, you undoubtedly saved me several years of my life spent in bed and also protected my family. That is no small thing to do for an uncooperative and total stranger.

From my experience as a teacher, I know well that public service is often largely its own reward. That is why I am anxious you know that in this instance you will always have my heartfelt appreciation.

Democrats Back Bill

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 16 (AP)—The Democratic party has thrown its support behind the Halpern-Milmoie Bill to boost state public school aid $600,000 above the amount mandated by the 1945 Feinberg law. Senate and Assembly Minority Leaders Elmer F. Quinn and Irwin Stringer announced yesterday that their party had decided to back the measure "in conformity with the Democratic party practice of regarding education as a non-partisan, non-political problem."

Two Republicans, Senator Seymour Halpern of Queens and Assemblyman Wheeler Milmoie of Canastota, are sponsoring the measure.

Kingston, Middletown Score One-Point Wins in DUSO

Maroons Forced to Rally in Last 15 Seconds After Leading by 15

Those patriotic minded citizens who are campaigning for a slower pace on the American heart apparently never heard of the DUSO Basketball League.

Unbelievable things happened in the hamlets of Port Jervis, Monticello and Fallsburg last night, and if there aren't a thousand new cardiac cases floating around a landscape today, it's because the DUSO fans are certainly of the hardiest species.

And, with Newburgh Academy coming into the municipal auditorium Friday night, there is no rest for Kingston. As a result of the wild night, the DUSO pennant race remains unchanged with Kingston leading by a game in the loss column over Newburgh and Middletown, a pair of power-houses it will encounter in its next two outings.

Briefly here's what happened during the tumultuous evening:

1. Kingston High nosed out Port Jervis, 40-39, after nearly blowing a 15-point lead (35-20).

2. Middletown High tried desperately to blow a 9-point margin but managed to squeeze through to a 49-48 victory over Fallsburg on the mountain court.

3. Liberty High, without a win in eight straight DUSO contests, reared up and smacked down highly favored Monticello, 41-28. Truly, a cataclysmic upset!

Port Jervis was a shambles after that torrid duel between the Maroon and the Red and Black. The highway to Kingston was literally strewn with cases of hysterical near-hurt failure, while the tri-state city took on the aspects of a giant beer mug—and everybody was trying to add his few drops.

It started as an ordinary conquest for the favored Kiansmen. They led 10-7 at the quarter and 25-15 at halftime. When they extended their margin to 35-20 late in the third period, the Maroon rosters relaxed and figured they were "in."

But, as assistant coach Bill Hurley remarked, "along came the fourth period." And what a quarter. The Porters suddenly caught fire. Everything they threw hit. Everything Kingston tried missed.

The Red and Black spawned a young, new hero in substituting Furman, who nearly murdered Kingston with four shots in the last quarter.

Hoelstein Gets Olleneer
With 20 seconds remaining, Furman's fourth basket sent Port Jervis ahead 39-38 as the tri-state city rosters almost tore down the arena. Kingston came downcourt and about five seconds later, "Champ" Hoelstein hit from the outside on a set shot that decided the contest. It was a 25-foot beauty from the left side. The game wasn't over by any means.

Gentile Quick Match

A pair of former city pocket billiard champions—veteran Tony Gentile and youthful Harold Quick—open a 500-point challenge match tonight at Rlenzo's Billiard Parlor, Downs street, at 8 o'clock.

The match will be played in 125-point blocks on four consecutive Wednesdays.

Quick, a sensation of two years ago, has been established as favorite but many old timers are rallying to Gentile's support. Chris Rienzo, proprietor of the billiard room, said the winner would challenge the recognized city champion in a title match.

Bayonne Keglers' 2836 Leads ABC; Hank Lauman Posts 687 in Singles

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 16 (AP)—A little-known bowling team from Bayonne, N. J., stole the spotlight from the famous Hermann Undertakers of St. Louis here last night in the five-man event of the 46th Annual American Bowling Congress at Convention Hall.

The Assumption Bowling Club, of Bayonne, slipped into second position with a 2836 total while the Hermann quintet could do no better than 2786 for a tie for seventh place.

Sam Garofalo, anchor of the St. Louis team and the only present member of the club that shot the world's record 3797 score in 1937, also was the only one to better 600. He had a 210, 243, 161 series for a 614 total.

New Doubles Leaders

Wilmington, Del., bowlers created something of a sensation in the doubles event yesterday when Charles Grossland and Joseph Rinaldi shot into first place with a 1,249 score. Their effort put them 24 points in front of Detroit's Edwin Appelle and Zeke Tody.

Howard Loughheed and G. G. Hoags, another Wilmington duo, further electrified the spectators when they rolled the highest doubles single game of the tournament and tied for the 18th highest mark in A.B.C. history by rolling 512 in their opening game.

That score included a 276 by Loughheed, the best single game rolled in the four-day-old tournament.

A No. 7 pin stinger in the tenth frame of his last game prevented Henry (Hank) Lauman of Los Angeles from taking first place in the singles. Hank hit a 697 total, one play-shy of the 698 mark set by Emanuel Weimann, 62-year-old seaman from Philadelphia.

Buffalo Boxer Presses Sugar Ray

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 16 (AP)—The third man Welterweight Champion Ray Robinson has failed to lick in 91 pro bouts is Henry Brimm, a local scrapper.

Brimm battled the heavily favored champion to a 10-round draw in a non-title headliner that had 6,625 fans in an uproar in Memorial Auditorium last night.

Robinson weighed 153½ and Brimm 156½.

Robinson lost once to Jake La Motta in Detroit in 1943 and was held to a draw by Jose Basora in Philadelphia in 1945.

Brimm used right crosses and sharp jabs to advantage throughout the fight. He inflicted a small cut over Robinson's left eye in the fourth round and made the eye a target the rest of the way.

Robinson cut loose with both barrels in the later rounds, but Brimm came back with a terrific finish. Twice they failed to hear the bell.

Both fighters got an ovation from the crowd at the finish. Judge William De James gave Robinson a 5-4-1 edge. Referee Stanton and Judge Fred Hegnauer scored it even-Stephen in rounds, 5-5, but Stanton voted for Brimm on points, 7-6.

Hampton Sets Pace With 15 Points

The K.H.S. Jayvees set the pattern for the stormy varsity game in Port Jervis last night by eking out a 33-31 victory over the home yearlings.

After a close first period in which Kingston led 9-7, a rout appeared in the making when the Maroons rolled a 24-11 halftime lead and clung to a 31-22 advantage going into the stretch.

But then came a scoring drought, while Rhodes, Gordon and Edwards hit for four fields for Port Jervis and had the Maroons on the run when the final buzzer sounded.

Bill Hampton, hero of the Jayvee win over Saugerties, recovered his scoring eye last night to drop 15 points for Kingston. Rhodes, Gordon and Edwards each had 8 for the losers.

Paris, Feb. 16 (AP)—Dick Button of Englewood, N. J., opens defense of his world figure skating championship today against a field of 11 accomplished skaters.

The young American, who also holds the Olympic title, is a heavy favorite to repeat although two Europeans may give him close competition.

They are Edi Rada of Austria and Ede Kraly of Hungary, who won the two top places in the European championships at Milan last month.

Compulsory figures are today's assignment for the men with the free skating competition to be held tomorrow night. The women will skate compulsory figures tomorrow and do their free skating Friday.

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

• Bagatelles:

Reaction to the appointment of Julie Laviano as Colonial manager for 1949 was favorable in most quarters. A few baseball fans expressed disappointment that Kingston didn't land a bigger "name" player, but generally speaking, Laviano, the manager, will have the support of the town's baseball followers.

Julie has the equipment to be a good manager. His long minor league background, his wartime service, hustle and enthusiasm are excellent attributes. He knows how to handle pitchers—a glaring weakness in Eddie Kobesky's arbor last season. And, despite his 35 years, he can still do a good job behind the plate for a couple of games at a stretch.

• A Trouble Shooter in 1948:

It is no secret among Colonial officials that it was Julie Laviano who kept the Colonials together down the home stretch last season. Kobesky and president Ted Lavio were not seeing eye to eye on many things and the situation bordered on open revolt. Julie was the go-between, the mediator, who took plenty of Kobesky's high powered expletives just to keep peace in the family.

An interesting sidelight developed late in the season when the Colonials were still trying to make the grade in the Shaughnessy playoff. On a particularly warm night after a hard game, a group of Colonials assembled in one of the well known local bistros.

Ted Laviano was making the rounds on a tour of inspection, so to speak, with Manager Kobesky. It was past the curfew hour. And the band played on for the Colonel as Laviano sent Kobesky into the place with orders to "get those birds out of there."

• Beer for the Boys, Please:

Laviano waited in the car. Nothing happened. Several minutes later Kobesky strolled out and said the boys would be out as soon as they finished their last beer. It appears to have been quite a beer, for more than an hour later "the boys" were still there. This time Julie Laviano was sent in and he emerged a few minutes later with a heavy escort of 300 hither: of the larger league.

Much to Ted Laviano's dismay it developed that Kobesky had gone to the bar and ordered a couple more drinks for the players.

Kobesky gets a new lease on life in Batavia, N. Y., in the Class D Pony League where he should bat a million and hit a flock of home runs. And probably have nobody warmed up with the bases loaded and the visitors already have already scored six runs.

Brother Ted Laviano assumed the responsibility of choosing brother Julie as manager. Now it's up to Ted to furnish Julie with some high powered material. The club needs power behind the plate, at first base and could use a long ball outfielder. Laviano, the president, says he will do it.

• Baseball, Gold Swings Alike—DiMag:

Joe DiMaggio, while anything but a golfer, explained during his first personal appearance on television that he gets the same thrill as golfers get when they hit a long ball. "I feel the power in my left arm on home runs," said the Clipper in an interview with Johnny Farrell, the former golf champion. DiMaggio also explained that to press at the plate means loss of timing. The same applies to golf.

• Applying in Select Group:

Only two major leaguers with 2,000 hits to their credit, one in each circuit, are listed to start the 1949 season in the Big Tent. They are Luke Appling of the Chicago White Sox who will be in his seventeenth campaign, and Dixie Walker, with the Pittsburgh Pirates, opening his eighteenth big league season.

Appling has collected 2,571 hits while Walker, still a regular with the Pirates at 38, has batted out 2,013.

The 2,000 club had five members a year ago, but the releases of Doc Cramer, Arky Vaughan and Joe Medwick reduced the number to two.

Joe DiMaggio and Wally Moses saw excellent chance of gaining admittance this year. The Yankee Clipper needs 147 safeties and Moses, 43.

Dick McCarthy isn't wearing that new ring just because he likes the color ruby.

Three Persons Are Hurt In New York Accident

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—Three persons, including two radio patrolmen, were injured when a police radio car responding to a power alarm collided with a private car at 180th street and Crotona Parkway, the Bronx, last night.

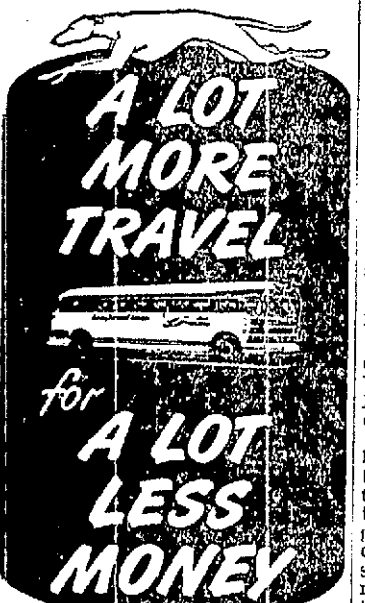

Both patrolmen are in Fordham Hospital in serious condition. The operator of the private car was treated at the hospital for leg injuries.

The policemen, both of the 112th Precinct, are Howard Dunn, 30, of 1022 University avenue, the Bronx, and Joseph P. Doyle, 28, of 4423 Edson avenue, also the Bronx. The driver of the private car is Jack Vossman, 22, of 2145 Southern Boulevard.

The crash hurled both patrolmen to the street and the driverless radio car traveled for half a block and then struck a parked car.

Three Men Ordered Out

Three men arrested yesterday in the city were ordered out of town by City Judge Matthew V. Cahill today. Officers George Bowser called for a police car from the West Shore railroad station at 10:18 p. m. and Officers Thomas McGraw and Joseph Fallon arrested Thomas Burns, Birmingham, and Eugene Flanagan, who said he had no home, on disorderly conduct charges, and Thomas Carr, Poughkeepsie, on a public intoxication charge. The judge, in suspending sentence, warned all of them that they must leave town immediately.

Linenthal Begins Plans for Summer Playhouse Season

Woodstock, Feb. 16—Much has been written during the past few months on the decentralization of the theatre away from New York and the subsequent strengthening of the community theatre to the end that the theatre would be available to a larger portion of the public as well as the all important factor of reducing unemployment in the theatrical ranks. In line with this program, Michael Linenthal, manager and producer at the Woodstock Playhouse, stated in an interview this week that it is his intention to do everything possible to make the Playhouse a real community enterprise.

Lower Prices

"Last year, we predicted our season on stars," said Linenthal. "This year, however, we will have occasional stars but the season will not be based on their availability. We will emphasize more conduct charges, and Thomas Carr, Poughkeepsie, on a public intoxication charge. The judge, in suspending sentence, warned all of them that they must leave town immediately."

It was learned, too, that the Woodstock Playhouse Club will be organized. Residents of the community will be eligible for membership which will give them a substantial reduction in admission. Miss Asabi Doughty, Sam Wilson, Sidney Berkowitz, and Howard Mandell are members of a committee to promote this club. Linenthal said he felt greatly indebted to Woodstockers and wished to do whatever was possible to make the theatre available to all residents. He also expressed his appreciation for the support given the Playhouse by those living outside of the community. Another organization in the interest of the community theatre will be the Kingston Committee of Friends of the Woodstock Playhouse of which Mrs. Henry Lambert Bibby is chairman.

One of the reasons for my being here so much earlier this year," said Linenthal, "is to try to stimulate interest so that the theatre will come to be regarded by the residents as a local institution and not just as a summer Playhouse. "Does that mean you are planning to keep the theatre open all year?" we asked. "It is entirely within the realm of possibility that it be open all year round if sufficient interest is manifested by the public. That is one of the things I am trying to determine," replied the manager.

Silvy, Ross Coming

Although it is too early to say definitely who the members of the resident company will be, Linenthal indicated that Michael Silvy, Polly Rowles, and Tony Ross would appear during the forthcoming season.

When questioned about his season in Boston which was just closed at the Boston Repertory Theatre, he asserted that it had been a satisfactory one. Their season closed with the smash hit "Richard III" which has been receiving rave notices on Broadway. Those known to Playhouse audiences and who are appearing in the Broadway success are Joseph Lyon, stage manager, Michael Silvy, Walter Burmeister and Polly Rowles.

Goodenough Ends Symphony Work For Pioneer Films

Woodstock, Feb. 16—Forrest Goodenough, pianist and composer, and twice the recipient of a Woodstock Foundation award, has completed his "Symphony for Small Orchestra" for the competition sponsored by Pioneer Pictures. It is expected that the winners of this competition will be announced sometime in March. The judges are Dr. Frank Black, Russell Bennett, and Henry Cowell, composer, and a resident of Lake Hill.

The idea for this competition was to give the winners of the distinguished violinist and violist, Emanuel Vardi, and we learn that the winner will be given the opportunity to write the background music for a production of "King of the Kings" to be filmed this year. Five of the contestants also will be selected for radio performances when their compositions will be played by symphony orchestras.

Goodenough's symphony is in three movements, Allegro ma non troppo, Adagio, and Allegro scherzoso. In recognition of this fine achievement on the part of the prominent blind pianist-composer, friends honored Goodenough last Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Berkowitz. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. John Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosen, and Mr. and Mrs. William Pachner. Goodenough left Sunday for a visit with his family in South Bend, Ind., and will go to Texas before returning to Woodstock.

Frank Mele, well-known violinist and composer, and Robert Phelps, writer, assisted Goodenough in copying the final score of his composition.

Federalists Plan Membership Drive

Woodstock, Feb. 16—The Woodstock Chapter of the United World Federalists announces that it will participate in a national drive for new members during the week beginning February 21. The local chapter was organized less than a year ago and now numbers 82 members.

The slogan for the membership campaign will be "Drive for Five" and each member is expected to interest five new ones. In discussing the forthcoming drive, Mrs. William Boyd told of the tremendous strides made nationally during the past two years since the founding of the organization in Asheville, N. C., and of the "amazing growth in influence in world politics."

The aims and purposes of the United World Federalists as well as its achievements to date will be presented in the newspapers, and over radio networks while the drive is underway.

To emphasize the importance of the work being done by the U.W.F., Mrs. Boyd referred to "The Way of the Fighter" by Major General Claire Chennault and quoted from the book, "As a practicing warrior for many years, I am convinced of the complete futility of war. It settles no problems of the past and creates new problems for the future. There is no place in the world today for the narrow, competitive nationalism that sparks the under of war. I am convinced that the people of this planet must ultimately and inevitably be governed by a single form of world government if civilization is to survive. But it is our immediate task to see that this world government comes as mutual federation of free peoples rather than through the ruthless domination of a master state enslaving all the others."

Legion Auxiliary Plans Food Sale Saturday

The funds received through the redemption of the coupons are used by the State Department of the American Legion Auxiliary for maintaining the new Women's Infirmary at Tupper Lake. The drive will continue until further notice and anyone not familiar with the coupons requested may receive information on the subject by phoning Woodstock 317 or 36. The next auxiliary meeting will be held Wednesday, February 23, at 8 p. m. in the Legion building.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Horse Sense Tells How to Make Bid

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

A survey made by the Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers brought to light the fact that there are playing cards in 43 per cent of the homes in the United States—that is more homes than have telephones, radios or automobiles.

I often wondered when I would get into one of the 17 per cent of the homes in which there is no deck of cards, and it finally happened. It was at the home of Maj.-Gen. L. C. Shepherd, Jr., Commandant of the Marine Corps Schools at Quantico, Va.

I wanted to do a card trick for his son, Wilson Shepherd, only to find that the general did not have a deck of cards. Never let it be said, however, that the general is not a sporting man.

He spent five dollars for tickets for a raffle at the Potomac Hunt Club, and, proving again that the Marines are winners, he won a riding horse named "Potomac." The horse now belongs to Wilson.

Talking about horses, all it takes to make today's hand is just a little bit of horse sense. The opening lead of the king of clubs wins the first trick, and the queen of clubs holds the second trick. When the jack of clubs is led, many declarers would make the mistake of ruffing it.

There are six trumps out, and the odds favor that they will be divided 4-2 rather than 3-3. Declarer has a losing heart in his hand. Therefore, using a little horse sense, he just discards the losing heart on the jack of clubs, and protects his trump holding.

Now there is nothing the opponents can do to hurt him. If a heart is led, dummy's ace wins, the trumps are picked up and all of declarer's diamonds are good.

Poughkeepsie . . .

to represent 4,000 Town of Lloyd residents, who seek a toll-free bridge.

The article said, however, that "While the Mid-Hudson bridge's debt is now larger than its original cost, the bridge authority can boast of a cash surplus of $1,337,982.52. This represents cash on deposit in Albany, Poughkeepsie, Catskill, Hudson, Poughkeepsie, Highland Falls and Kingston, as well as undeveloped funds."

The bridge's present debt "on state record books," the article said, "is $7,503,918.11. This represents $4,986,947.65 of the construction debts and $2,517,070.46 in state-claimed interest charges."

Traffic on the Mid-Hudson bridge today is 400 per cent greater than in 1935, the first year Bridge Authority records were filed with the comptroller. Daily average figures show that 578,890 vehicles crossed the Mid-Hudson span during 1935. Last year the number of vehicles had zoomed to 2,454,386.

Revenues, too, have soared. During the first year, the bridge authority had control of the crossing, it produced $375,950. Fourteen years later, with traffic at a new peak, the bridge toll booths collected $604,544.16.

Increase Continues

Traffic and revenue have mounted steadily except during war years, the article said, and records show that the number of vehicles using the bridge passed the million mark in 1939, dropped slightly below in 1943, continued rising in 1944 until in 1946 more than two million vehicles traveled over the structure and the following years showed continued increases.

The article showed that the bridge has been used by 17,634,972 vehicles and earned $6,230,783 in 14 years under the authority.

Travel over the Rip Van Winkle Bridge for the same period was listed as 6,399,503 vehicles with a revenue of $2,387,321. In eight years the record for the Bear Mountain Bridge is 5,295,262 vehicles.

Apples Case Is Settled by Jury; Verdict, No Cause

Following conclusion of testimony and the summations by counsel the contract action brought by Raymond Ambrosino against Donald McNicholas and another was submitted to the jury in Supreme Court Tuesday and later a verdict of no cause of action was returned. Michael Nardone appeared for the plaintiff and N. LeVan Haver for the defendants.

Plaintiff claimed he purchased a block of apples from McNicholas in September 1946 for resale on the New York market. It was contended the purchase price of the McIntosh apples was $1,705.65 and the plaintiff claimed he lost some $500 because they were not of the size and quality represented. Ambrosino claimed he purchased 579 boxes of 2 1/2 and 2 3/4 inch apples and 37 boxes of 2 1/2 inch McIntosh apples, relying on the faith and warranty from McNicholas guaranteeing them to be of certain size.

The apples, stored in the cooler of M. G. Hurd & Sons in Clinton, were removed from the cooler at various times between November and March. They were taken by plaintiff to New York, where, the plaintiff contended, they were found to be of smaller size than marked and had to be sold at a loss.

Testimony for the plaintiff was offered by Raymond Ambrosino, plaintiff; Carl R. Ambrosino, his son; Jerome R. Hurd, cold storage plant operator; John A. Smith, Modena, an apple grower for 50 years.

Attorney N. LeVan Haver contended for the defendant that Ambrosino had been present when the apples in question were being packed and that he knew exactly what he was purchasing. He also claimed that an amount of shrinkage in storage is to be expected in McIntosh and other apples.

The only defense witness, Donald McNicholas, testified to this and also to his recollection that the first complaint made to him by the plaintiff concerned not the size but the quality of the apples. Quality was not the subject of this action, Haver pointed out.

At the conclusion of the Ambrosino case a jury was taken in No. 35, an action brought by Mathilda Schwall and another against Grover O. Scudder and another. Testimony was concluded, Justice Elsvorth charged the jury and shortly after 5 o'clock returned with a verdict of no cause of action.

Mrs. Schwall claimed she had been injured in an accident in 1945 on the High Falls-Rosendale road when the car of her husband and a truck owned by Dreamland Farms and operated by Grover O. Scudder, were involved in an accident. Alvin Dalheim appeared for plaintiff and Reginal V. Spell was attorney of record for defendant.

Following completion of this action an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

Acheson Insists

measures or other actions which could in effect be interpreted, if they were included, as an open warning that the United States would go to war under the alliance.

Whether Connally's suggested wording would find favor at the State Department was uncertain. Secretary Acheson said in a January 26 statement that "we can best contribute to the maintenance of peace by joining with other nations in making it absolutely clear in advance that any armed attack affecting our national security would be met with overwhelming force."

Has Similar Statement

While the North Atlantic treaty draft is still secret, it is known that it has contained to date, a similar statement of the principle that an attack on any one member of the alliance would be considered an attack on all of them.

What has diplomatic officials worried is the possible reaction of the Russians and the western Europeans to the debate now going on here while the draft is still tentative and secret.

The fear is that the impression may be created abroad that the United States is backing away from the kind of warning which Acheson advocated as the best means of discouraging an aggression.

Those officials who share this fear privately express anxiety that western European people may be discouraged in their search for security with American help. They think the Soviets may be emboldened to feel that they can undertake some new adventure in Europe by using a threat of force without laying themselves open to fast and decisive American counter measures.

Food Index Gains Bradstreet Reports

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food index this week advanced for the first time in eight weeks. At $5.76, it was 1.8 per cent above last week's low, which was a 28-month low.

The current figure was still 14.8 per cent below the $6.76 of a year ago. The index represents the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Foods which advanced this week included flour, wheat, corn, rice, oats, barley, hams, lard, butter, cottonseed oil, eggs, potatoes, steers, hogs and lambs.

Lower were beef, bellies, sugar, coffee, cocoa, molasses and raisins.

Man Is Killed At Koppers Plant

Kearney, N. J., Feb. 16 (AP)—One man has died and another lies critically injured as a result of a violent explosion of the Koppers Coke Plant here yesterday.

Hugh Snedden, 43, Jersey City, died late last night at Christ Hospital in Jersey City. Salvatore Grasso, 27, was on the critical list at the hospital. Four other men were out to lunch at the time of the noonday blast.

The Koppers Coke Plant blast shook the towers of Manhattan across the Hudson river and was felt as far away as Queens and Brooklyn. Calls for information jammed police and newspaper switchboards.

Koppers said two partly-filled 2,000 gallon vats of liquid hydrocyanic cyanide exploded, tipping the roof off the plant building where they were located.

Damage was estimated at $5,000 to $10,000.

Firemen Adopt Revised By-laws

Revised by-laws on which a committee had been working for some time were adopted by the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association at its meeting in the common council chamber, city hall, last night.

The firemen were guests of the local Veterans Volunteer Firemen's Association and a social program at central fire station followed the business session.

Henry Drake, field director of the state firemen's training school program, explained its value to the volunteers, and E. E. Wevill, a fire inspector of the New York Central railroad, explained the railroad's fire protection service and stressed the need for cooperation between the volunteers and the railroad service.

The Saxton Fire Company was admitted to membership and the association now has 59 companies enrolled.

The meeting, attended by 250 members, adjourned in respect to the late Walter Sickler and Dennis A. Wood of Highland.

The next meeting will be held March 15 at New Falz.

Green County School Calls for Enlargement

Catskill, Feb. 16—An architect has been hired by the Board of Education of the Greenville Central School to prepare preliminary sketches and drawings for an addition to the present school building, following receipt of a state recommendation that steps be taken to relieve crowded conditions.

Raymond Losee, board president, revealed that the state's check showed a pressing need for six additional classrooms in Grades 1-6, for two kindergarten rooms and for additional school rooms in the secondary school.

Census figures indicate, he said, that approximately 80 pupils will enter the school annually in future years.

Tokyo, Feb. 16 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito today formally installed Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and his new cabinet. The Yoshida cabinet is considered the strongest of the occupation. The new government's first job is to implement increasingly strong American demands for economic rehabilitation. Yoshida has said he wants to crush the communists, who increased their strength in the last election.

Philadelphia Gets Sixth Rideless Day

Philadelphia, Feb. 16 (AP)—Philadelphians put on their walking shoes today for the sixth day of a general transit strike and the second day of a city-wide taxicab walkout.

The double tie-up has stopped bus, trolley, subway and taxi service in America's third largest city.

Representatives of the Philadelphia Transportation Co. and the C.I.O. Transit Workers Union scheduled negotiating sessions again today, but settlement of the wage dispute still seemed far away.

At the end of 12 hours of meetings only 27 minutes of which the company and union talked across the table—Michael J. Quill, international president of the union, announced last night:

"If we have to carry this strike on for three months we are prepared to do so."

The company had nothing to say.

The strike of nearly 4,000 Yellow Cab Company and independent drivers continued despite the pleas of Charles Pirelli, president of Local 156, A.F.L.-Taxi Drivers Union, that he men go back to work.

Most of the taxi drivers walked out 24 hours ahead of the strike deadline voted on by the membership last week.

But a voice vote of the members yesterday approved the walkout and another vote called for a meeting today to hear reports of negotiations progress.

Crippled Wife Blames Self for Hubby's Thefts

New York, Feb. 16 (AP)—If your wife suffered from a drud disease and you had to have money, would you steal?

Irving Himmelstein, 41, stood before Kings County Judge George J. Joyce yesterday and pleaded guilty to stealing to get doctors and medicines for his wife, Sally, 38.

Suffering from the creeping Burger's disease, with both legs amputated, she spends most of her time in a wheelchair.

"The man was driven to these burglaries," Himmelstein's attorney, Leon Fishbein, told the judge. "The family conditions are such that I could not take any fee from them."

If you stole under those circumstances, what would you expect?

Judge Joyce shifted uneasily behind the bench. Justice presumes mercy. But the laws are written in the books.

He looked at Himmelstein's record—unlawful entry in 1935, a misdemeanor reduced from burglary; then, last March, a suspended five-to-ten years sentence on another burglary charge. The dates coincided with times when Sally Himmelstein's illness, required money.

"I agree with you," the judge said sadly to the lawyer, "but under the law, I must sentence him to the mandatory sentence of five to ten years."

Afterwards, Sally Himmelstein, clutching by their two frightened and bewildered little daughters, watched the bailiffs lead her husband away toward Sing Sing prison.

"He never had any trouble till I got sick," she said. "He stole for me to try to get well. There was never a more devoted man. He thought only of me."

Would Survey Needs For Delaware Dams

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 16 (AP)—The Legislature has been asked to approve a projected survey of the need for dams in the Delaware river basin.

Concurrent resolutions to ask New York to engage in the survey were introduced yesterday by Senator Floyd E. Anderson, Birmingham Republican, and Assemblyman George W. Foy Albany Democrat.

The resolutions are sponsored by the Joint Legislative Committee on Interstate Cooperation, which envisions a dam or a series of dams on the upper Delaware river and its tributaries in the state's southern tier region, as a result of a tri-state investigation.

The water project would be designed to "meet the combined prospective water supply requirements of political subdivisions and metropolitan areas in New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey," the resolution said.

The measure, which is being submitted simultaneously in the three states, calls for New York to pay one-third of the $200,000 costs of the proposed two-year investigation.

Anderson is vice-chairman of the commission.

Po'keepsie Democrats Irked by Appointment

Appointment of a Republican as deputy tax commissioner is causing resentment among Democrat ward leaders in Poughkeepsie.

One of them from the downtown area remarked, "If we are going to build up the Democratic party, this is no way to do it. We might just as well vote for the Republicans."

William T. Kinsella, chairman of the Democratic city committee, is being called upon to explain why John E. Devo, city hall accountant, was named deputy tax commissioner, instead of a Democrat qualified to hold the position.

Assailing the appointment from a party standpoint a leader said, "A lot of our Republican friends voted for a change. Evidently we are not getting it."

Appointment of Devo to the $5,000 a year job was made by Tax Commissioner Murphy, who said he accepted responsibility for it.

Ulster Might Get

been made for funds to meet the back taxes due.

Stang has been advised that there is a movement now to sell the railroad branch between Kingston and Port Jervis. The prospective purchaser has not been disclosed but it is understood that the negotiations include an agreement to continue operation of the line. Stang was informed by counsel that should this sale be consummated the back taxes would be paid in full from the proceeds of the sale.

Recently the Sullivan county Board of Supervisors, which also entered into an agreement for payment of back taxes in 1942 in a manner similar to Ulster county, has authorized its county attorney to proceed with collection of the back taxes or to force liquidation of the O. & W. assets. County Attorney William Costello of Sullivan county is preparing plans to take necessary steps in Federal court to force payment of the taxes under the Federal court motion in 1942 or to force liquidation. Under the 1942 agreement the road was to make installment payments on back taxes and maintain payment of current tax obligations. That agreement has not been lived up to.

Newburgh Starts To Value Land For Fair Amounts

Newburgh, Feb. 16—Organization of a committee on reappraisal of land has been completed. It has been announced from the office of Mayor Herbert A. Warden, and the work of equalizing land values in the city is to start immediately.

There are seven members on the committee proposed by the mayor and recommended by John Corickdale, Jr., city assessor, who will serve as an ex-officio member of the group.

Assessor Corickdale submitted a tentative outline of the duties of the committee, which is individually and collectively to inspect all lands and determine fair valuations, and, to the extent possible, correct existing inequalities and discrepancies. It will report its recommendations to the assessor for incorporation into the 1950 assessment roll. It was indicated that the work must be completed by June 15. Any objections by property owners would come before the board of review on "grievance" day.

Each member of the committee is to be supplied with a set of sectional maps showing existing land values, and he and his colleagues will decide on such changes, if any, in figures as may be in his and their judgment as regarded necessary. Mayor Warden pledged cooperation by all departments of the government in the task being entered on. Mr. Myers commended him on his prompt action in naming and assembling the committee.

The feeling of the committee was that, arduous as is the work before it, it is an honor to serve with the responsible fiscal authorities of the city in making a start toward property reappraisal which has long been needed and which will be carried to conclusion, after the group completes its work, by some form of outside experts employed by the municipality to determine the value of improvements on lands.

There is to be a weekly meeting of the committee in city hall each Monday afternoon or evening.

Rosendale House Damaged by Fire; Volunteers Called

Fire said to have been caused by an overheated wood stove damaged the three-room bungalow of Mrs. Lydia Ritz on Rosendale Heights this morning before 35 volunteers could bring it under control. It started about 10:30 a. m.

Mrs. Ritz said the entire inside of her home, and furniture, was a total loss. Firemen saved a desk with important papers including a bank book and an insurance policy on the dwelling.

Volunteer firemen from the Rosendale and Binnewater companies rushed to the fire with their two 500-gallon booster pumps, and used chemicals also in trying to bring the blaze under control. But the flames had made such headway that they were unable to save much of the house.

Observers said the bungalow was just a shell with the four sides and roof remaining.

Mrs. Ritz was at Williams Lake where she is employed when the fire broke out. Walter Williams drove her to the bungalow in his car, and tried to fight the blaze with chemicals.

Clyde Baxter of Rosendale, a taxi driver, turned in the alarm to Burton Roosa, grocer of the village, who supervises the fire siren in his store. He called out the two fire companies, sounding the alarm.

Rosendale firemen fought the blaze under direction of Chief Louis Mastro, and the Binnewater volunteers were supervised by Fire Captain Anderson.

A call was sent in to the Mutual Aid system center at the Central Fire Station, Kingston, at 11:24 a. m. It was not necessary to use city equipment.

Association Will Meet

The Cerebral Palsy Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. at the home of Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, 192 Clinton avenue. A report on the first national conference held February 6 through 10 at Hotel Statler, New York, will be given by Mrs. George Clark. All interested people are urged to attend.
